

Automate Your Underwriting Submission Process to Write More Business, Faster.

Smart Submission from Send.

It usually starts with an email ...and your underwriters need to quickly process time-consuming and unstructured data. Submissions are a critical point in the underwriting process and ultimately determine how much business you can write.

Get control of your submission chaos, and free your teams from manual tasks. Smart Submission uses AI to provide intelligent automation that extracts data in seconds from any format.

We help you rapidly ingest, classify and triage new submissions.

With Smart Submission you can easily prioritise risks in appetite, saving you time and increasing your win rate. The result? Faster submissions processing.
